

Wildscreen

The African rock python is Africa's largest snake.

Like all pythons, the scales around the African rock python's lip have heat-sensitive pits, which are used to detect warm-blooded prey, even in the dark.

Cut a hole in the mouth of the snake and poke the tongue through!

